Spring 2013
The Richardson History of Psychiatry Research Seminar
Convenes on the 1st & 3rd Wednesdays from September through May
2:00 PM Baker Tower Conference Room F-1200

January 2          Colin L. Talley, Ph.D., Emory University
                   "History, Melodrama, and the Illness Experience of Chronic Disease in the United States"
January 16         No Seminar – APsaA
February 6         Carolyn Williams, Ph.D., Rutgers University
                   "Gilbert and Sullivan: The Patter Song in a Psychosocial Context"
February 20        Henry Abelove, Ph.D., Wesleyan University
                   Esman Lecture
                   "The Affective Basis of University Teaching"
March 6            Nasser Ghaemi, M.D., MPH, Tufts University Medical Center
                   "A First-Rate Madness: Exploring the links between mental illness and leadership"
March 20           Paul Appelbaum, M.D., Columbia University Physicians and Surgeons
                   "Tracking the Swings of the Pendulum: Civil Commitment Law in the United States"
April 3            David Konstan, New York University
                   "Must Repentance be Painful? From Pagan Antiquity to Early Christianity"
April 17           Gerald Grob, Ph.D., Rutgers University
                   "Origins of the DSMs and Psychiatric Epidemiology: Retrospect and Prospect"
May 1              Brook Holmes, Ph.D., Princeton University
                   "Mind-Body Sympathy in Ancient Greek Medicine and Philosophy"
May 15             Daniel Pick, Ph.D., University of London
                   Eric T. Carlson Memorial Lecture: Grand Rounds, Uris Auditorium
                   "The Pursuit of the Nazi Mind? Psychoanalysis and Politics in the Age of Extremes"

Richardson Seminar: Room f1190
"Freud was a bad historian' (Eric Hobsbawm). Reflections on Psychoanalysis, History and National Ci

* PLEASE NOTE: Space is limited. Attendance by permission only.